Volume Five

During the '72-'73 school term they told us that ours was a time of great potential. The recent 18-year-old vote gave many of us a voice in government, the fall presidential elections were, in fact, the first opportunity to exercise that right, and peace in Vietnam seemed to be on its way to permanency.

Thus, it was in this atmosphere that we spent our year at West — that atmosphere instilling in us a desire for constructive action and a determination to procure it. We had the resources of West to use and the freedom to create. Although our activities centered around the school environment, the results superseded the school boundaries, for in our involvement we experienced management, leadership, and organization, we experienced cooperation and teamwork, we experienced success — and failure — and we experienced responsibility. Each of us as individuals had to give much toward the activities we chose, but the learning and education gained made the actions worthwhile.

Hence, we found action was the means by which we could achieve new ideas and facilitate change in the old ones. We had seen the violent forces of the sixties as a way to attain goals; we had seen the dreamlike attitude of the early seventies create a false hope that the new decade would automatically bring about change. Neither of these was our way. Instead, we chose to follow the words of John Lennon and Paul McCartney, feeling the answer for us was "we can work it out."

ELECTIONS 1973

Yearbook Party

A week before school started, the publications class sponsored a yearbook party to which the whole school was invited. Yearbooks were handed out and were signed by old and new friends alike.

Then as the school year began the student body started to organize their school government. Student Council officers (elected last Spring), Tom Newcomb and Terri Sommers, helped get the elections of class officers and representatives underway.

Powder Puff

The Powder Puff Football Game was a very spirited event. For the first time in the history of Parkway West, a powder puff team won two years in a row. The team that accomplished this fantastic act was the Seniors of 1973.

The offense was good on both teams. The final score was, Senior Women 20 and junior girls 12. The Senior Women put the junior girls in their proper place! Even though the Senior Women showed they had a better team, there were no hard feelings between the two teams.

TYPANI: Kent Johnston and Donna Stuit.

Were you just sitting around wondering what you could do and found that there was nothing to do? Well, you were wrong. An enjoyable evening was held at the West Gym and the featured entertainment was the West Orchestra.

The Orchestra played arrangements from such noted classical composers as Baccarini, Corelli, Mozart, and Bizet. Not failing to include the contemporary side as well, they performed a score from the well-known "West Side Story."

Winter Band Concert

Kay Jones waits for her turn to play.

Playing the tube takes more effort than one thinks.

Mr. Waggoner in all of his glory.

An enjoyable evening was provided for all who attended the annual Winter Band Concert in West's Gymnasium.

Three bands participated in this production: The Symphonic Winds, the Concert Band, and the Contemporary Music Labs. The Contemporary Music Labs performed a couple of their own arrangements such as "Rat Face Rag," while the Concert Band performed music from Chicago and the Symphonic Winds performed "Pictures at an Exhibition."

In a ready position, they wait for their cue.

Band Review 1973

The Spring Band Review was one of the most entertaining events of the school year. Mr. Waggoner brought in the Jan Albus Dancers and a singer to provide the Music Labs with various playing experiences. However, the main interest in the Review was the music and in that way, the Band Review was a big success.

Alan Manning, Kaye Rice and John Hayes perform a piece from Chicago.

Keith Ridenhour performs one of his many solos.

Chamber Concert + Music

The Boys Chorus performs "The Eyes of a Child."

You say you like Chicago music, well I'm sure you enjoyed the Chamber Music Concert which featured a trio that sang a medley of songs from Chicago. Many of the groups did solo acts which showed the fantastic talent we had at West.

Jim Mobus sings "Rocky Mountain Gold."

Camp

Several West students took time from their school schedule to act as counselors for Parkway sixth graders involved in the Triple E Camping Program. This program, relatively new, was designed to acquaint students with their environment and the different aspects of nature. Held at Trout Lodge, Potosi, Missouri for one school week, the students, along with their teachers and high school counselors, participated in many activities ranging from splunking to a graveyard study.

Pathfinder

The Pathfinder 50 was held April 30.

The start was a burst of energy, sparked by the first five riders of each team. However, after forty-nine laps this energy was nowhere to be seen.

Then came the fiftieth lap and there again came the strength as at the beginning. The finish was close and the winning team was triumphant.

The committee meeting is called to order.

Committee members prepare for the meeting at Central later that week.

Model Senate was started four years ago at Central as an experiment in political education and for the first time, was done jointly with West on April 3, 4, and 7. Senators from both schools debated bills on topics ranging from the legalization of prostitution, to the legalization of marijuana. After bills passed the hurdle of committee meetings they proceeded to the General Assembly. Party leaders were Bob Portnoy, Elise Shumway, Frank Mermoud, and Kathy Sullivan. Heading the committees were Katy Vignery, Karla Taylor, Tim Cannon, and Lynne Durbin. The President pro tempore was Judy Juffee and the school coordinator was Laura Kennedy.

Spring Choral Concert

There were four hundred students that participated in the Spring Choral Concert. This year was extra-special; the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra came and accompanied the Choirs in Frances Poulenc's Gloria. Another one of the main selections was Godspell, which had a special light show that Mr. Dunivent put together. Everyone who attended the concert thoroughly enjoyed the program.

SENIOR TRIP

The annual Senior Trip, sponsored by the Senior Class, was held in the Bahamas.

Upon arrival the seniors were set loose upon an unsuspecting island. Activities such as scuba diving, sightseeing, and motorcycling were enjoyed by all.

It's doubtful that any of the seniors would forget this fun-filled week for some time.

The straw markets are just great for "touristing."

SUN and SAND!

Swing batter, batter, SWING!

Seniors relax and eat doughnuts before the buses arrive.

Mr. Berger's victorious team cheers on another runner.

Question: At what event did the seniors run wild on the grounds of Lake Holiday?

Answer: At the Senior Picnic, what else?

Much to the envy of the sophomores and juniors, the seniors escaped from their classes one bright Friday and headed for Lake Holiday. There they enjoyed swimming, softball, volleyball, water bikes, sunning, and feeding the "ferocious" ducks. Many watched the exciting confrontation between Mr. Berger's and "Blazing" Buss's softball teams.

So, did the seniors have a great time? You bet!!

SENIORS and COACHES

Yes, football is more than the glamour and glory on windy autumn Saturday afternoons. Football is a grueling sport. It requires the physical exertion of six days a week of break-downs, exercises, and scrimmages combined with the mental commitment necessary to compete in the Saturday games. For West's football team, the hopes and expectations of September materialized into three victories; a figure which did not reflect the output and dedication of the Longhorns. However, the majority of the team was juniors, who have now gained useful experience, and give West hope for a more successful season in 1973.

With refined skills and experience as the ultimate goals, the J.V. team battled its way through three wins and three losses this season. The team's attainment of these goals was demonstrated in its last game, against Webster Groves. Webster went into the game undefeated, but was knocked down by the Longhorns; our team beat Webster 26 to 12. Coach Deschamp explained that a J.V. team's purpose is to give all of the members the basic techniques and competition of football on the J.V. level in order to build for the varsity level next year. The development this season of good, experienced players should contribute to a powerful varsity football team in 1973.

This year's sophomore team was one of great enthusiasm. With two excellent coaches, Mr. Schiller, and Mr. Newton, the team had a +6 record season. Next year's team promises to be a good one with many of these sophomores starting on the varsity team.

"Team Conference"

"They had every reason to give up: Weather, sickness, injuries, and lots of tough luck. However, they stayed in there and maintained the standard of excellence that is a tradition with this team."

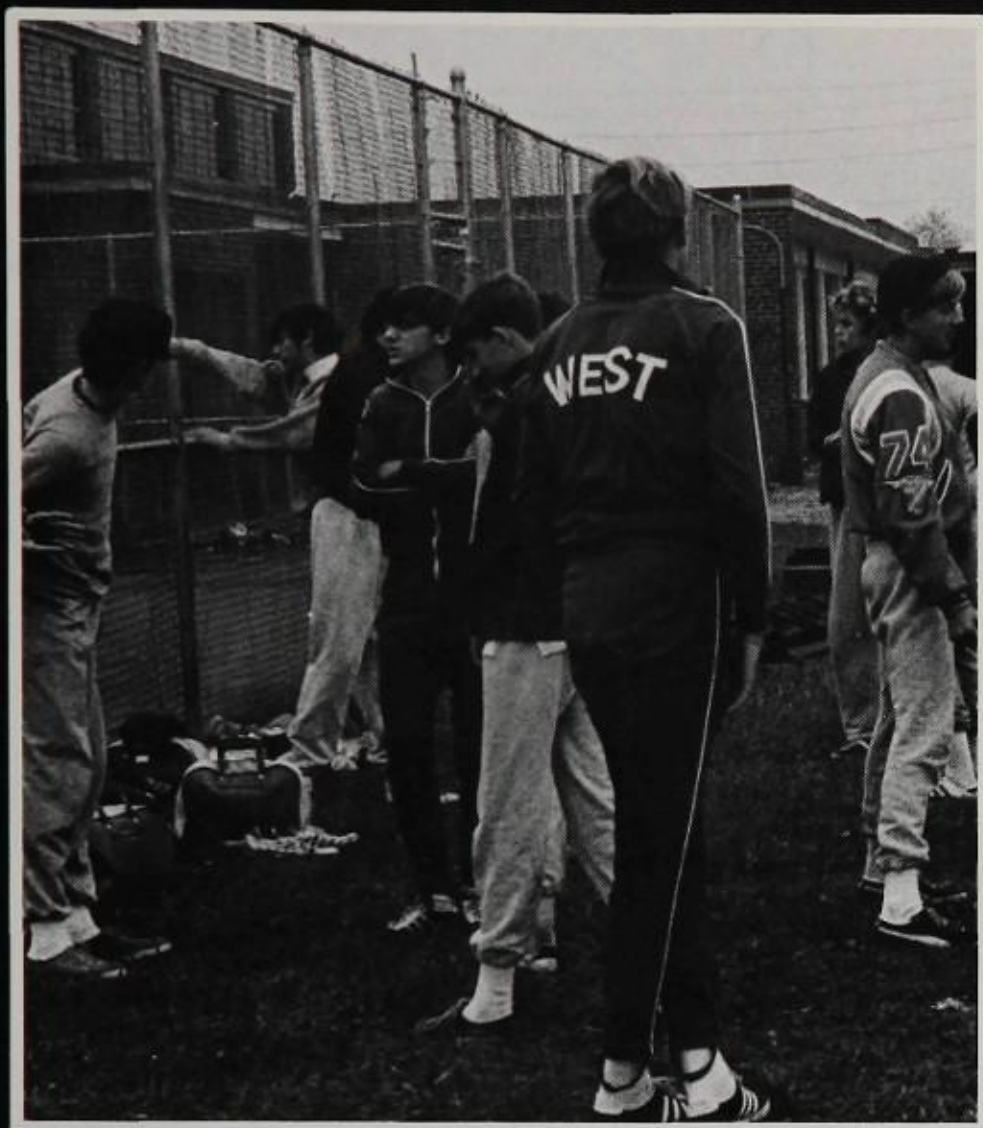

Coach Ganz

This year's cross-country team was one West could be proud of. In practice, and in meets, they ran up hills thru rain, mud, wind, and cold weather. Injuries to players such as Bob Bissel and Neil Rebbe on the Varsity level, and Larce Marrietta on the Sophomore level, hampered the team. Through all this, West's cross-country team showed the excellence, in running as well as sportsmanship, that has been a West tradition.

The overall record this year was 28-8-1, an impressive statistic.

Varsity: Glenn Bartholemew, Dan Taylor, Neil Rebbe, Rick Noles, Mike Kiss, Bob Bissel, Steve Carner.

Coach Fuller, after his traditional dunking in the pool following a victory, pauses to talk to Mark Conrad.

Coach Fuller this season produced West's finest swim team yet. He considered it a strong team with outstanding individuals and good depth. Coach Fuller also recognized two other factors which contributed to the team's success: the messages left by mysterious Kilroy, and the girl timers — the "Hot Dogs." Co-captains Don Depke and Mike Gorham provided spirit as well as many first places to the team. Mike Gorham contributed the most points total. Mark Maier was another outstanding senior; he led the divers to a 12-1 record, taking first place in every meet except against Kirkwood. The 10-4 season ended with several West swimmers going to State Finals; Mark Maier took third place in diving, the 200 Yard Medley Relay team took fourth place, and sophomore Jay Hammond took tenth place in 100 Yard Breaststroke.

If one factor were to be singled out to account for this year's successful varsity season it would have to be the outstanding individuals on the team. To begin with, the average height of the members was 6' 3", whereas most schools only had a few members that tall. Before the season began, newspapers were already ranking West high in the St. Louis area, recognizing in particular Jeff Miller, John Nichols, and Steve Litzau. In the games to come, these players as well as the other talented team members, always striving for perfection, succeeded in living up to the high expectations voiced at the beginning of the season: they clinched first place in the Normandy Tournament, and concluded the season with an outstanding 20-6 record.

Pre-game warm-ups.

Seven individual basketball players began by working out for the season in November; they perfected skills, gained experience, and most important, learned to cooperate as a team, finally emerging as a spirited unit at the end of the J.V. season. They played a good defense, and a controlled offense. That, combined with accurate shooting, contributed to the winning season, but it was the team spirit that Coach Rodgers evoked from the team which the players attributed most to the outstanding 13-2 season.

Bruce Baker and Greg Shipman await the outcome of Rick Garrison's jump.

Coaches Deschamp and Whiteaker have again produced an outstanding Sophomore basketball team. Terminating the season after a 13 game winning streak, the team racked up an 18-3 overall record. Their 8-1 record put them in first place in conference play. The sophs concluded the season by capturing first place in both the Suburban South League Tournament, and finally the Parkway Tournament held at West. The talented individuals on the Sophomore team should contribute to another successful season for next year's varsity team at West.

It Takes To Win

"It was a successful season which can be expressed by both the record of the team, the fun that we all had, and a future that looks bright for the coming years."

Coach Kirtz

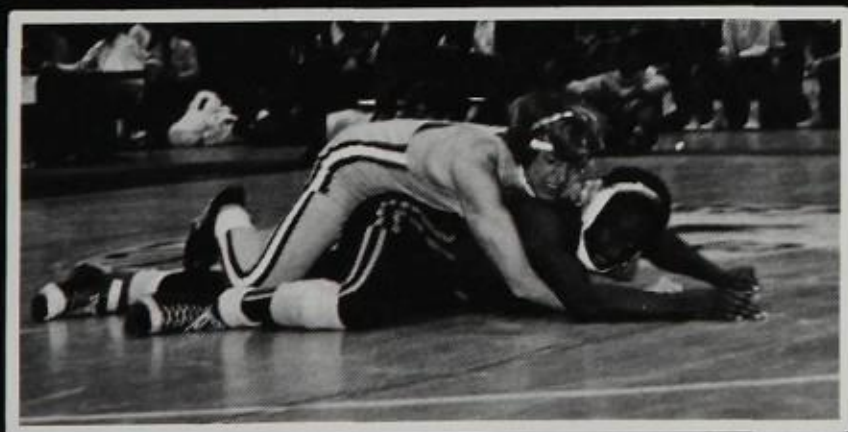

This year's team started the season with a first place in the Kirkwood tournament and looked strong at many weights. The team relied mainly on its Seniors to set a winning example. At 98 pounds, Rob Millikan finished with an excellent 27-3 record and a berth in the state tournament. Co-captains Chris Phillips at 126 pounds and Bud Sines at 138 pounds showed strongly throughout the season. At 155 pounds, Kevin Maher entered the state tournament with a unique style and determination and wrestled his way to a second in state. Next year should be even more promising as the team will be more experienced. With Randy Roddy coming back at 185 pounds, the team will not be lacking a state contender.

This year's Junior Varsity had an outstanding 10-3-1 record. The team was led by the fine wrestling and leadership of Rick and Randy Ruppel, Craig Faris, Brad Smith, Keith Didrickson, and Jeff Nabors. The future looks bright with outstanding wrestlers like these moving to the varsity ranks.

The sophomores this year had an excellent season with a 10-1 record. Among their accomplishments they won the Riverview Quad meet, the Suburban South Conference in Duel match competition and took third in the Conference tournament. This year's sophomore team was led by such players as Rick and Randy Ruppel, Craig Faris, Brad Smith, and Ken Frigo. They had excellent coaching by Mr. Newton.

Produce Record Season

"Looking at it from the standpoint of past seasons you would have to say it was a good year. This year's varsity soccer team broke almost every record in the book, from the number of goals in a season to the number of boys who placed on the all conference team. However I think each member of the squad, myself included, was disappointed that we didn't do even better."

Mr. Taylor

This years soccer team placed five boys on the all-conference team. These boys were Woot Srithaporn, Matt McDarby, Rick Brinker, and Captains Doug Dowden and Tom Waites. The third captain on this year's varsity team was Craig Mathis. These captains showed team leadership both spiritually and physically. Another senior who deserves recognition is Rick Archeski.

"Our season was defensively tremendous and offensively impotent. Although lackadaisical during practice at times, each member of the team demonstrated admirable enthusiasm and dedication, and contributed to a very respectable 6-3-4 record. It was an extremely pleasurable experience."

— Coach Phillips —

This years sophomore soccer team had the potential for greatness. With a strong defense and at times a strong offense they defeated most of their opponents. One of the main factors contributing to their success was their enthusiasm and dedication. Many of this years sophomores will greatly contribute to the varsity team.

League Tournament Straight Year

Coach Deschamp's golf team this season lived up to his high expectations. Golf is a sport which depends on each individual's score, and therefore, West was fortunate to have several skillful players — both strong, experienced seniors and good juniors and sophomores. The team demonstrated their strength when they broke their previous school record at the home course with a total of 218. The outstanding team won match after match, and lost only to Central. West was avenged, however, when, at the Suburban South Conference Tournament our golfers defeated Central and every other team, and returned with the trophy. West's powerful four man team consisting of Gary Warren, Bill Thompson, Craig Hardcastle, and Glen Guenther won the Conference title by seven strokes over the second place team at Terre Du Lac.

This year's Varsity baseball team was basically a young team. Made up mostly of Juniors, with a few Seniors, the baseball team surprised everyone in the league. They were one of the best hitting ball clubs around with exceptional hitting by Bill Tikey. Leadership was provided by Steve Settle, Bill Talbert, Bill Tikey, and Tom Heeter. As well as a good hitting team, good fielding from everyone added to West's effectiveness. West's pitching staff also proved excellent with senior Tom Heeter, their number one hurler. West's success was mainly attributed to Head Coach Rogers and Assistant Coach Pratte.

Bob Bissell turns to receive the baton from teammate Glen Bartholomew.

Hard workouts, skillful coaching, and individual drive contributed to the success of the 1973 track team. The team was composed of strong individuals who consistently had wins in their events to contribute to the final winning score for West. Two such individuals were Bob Guest, in triple jump, and Kevin Delorey, in high jump. Each broke the previous school record in his event three times in a row — in the first three meets of the season. Pride in the team evoked spirit; each individual pulled for the rest of the team, which also greatly contributed to the outstanding season.

Kevin Delorey demonstrates the form he used to win in the high jump event time after time.

Five teams in a wide range of sports made up the girls varsity sports program this season. Girls' participation at an interschool varsity level is a relatively new addition to West. The swim team was just introduced this season, while the other four sports teams began their second year. The first team which played this year was the field hockey team. Coached by Mrs. Adams, the girls battled the more experienced, older teams in the league to a 1-5-1 season. The basketball team had a more successful season. Talent including seniors Kris Roush, Linda Kinnard, and Cindy Sanders, as well as all of the other fine members, together with Miss Kelleher's able coaching culminated in an outstanding 7-3 season. Spring brought three more sports: volleyball — coached by Mrs. Adams, tennis, a fine team with outstanding individuals headed by Brady Speer — coached by Miss Kelleher, and swim team — coached by Mr. Larsen.

After conquering many obstacles such as injured players and having to travel 20 or 30 miles just to get to play, the team richly deserved the high praise, their total record being what it was. Their record of 11-7-1 enabled them to go to semi-finals and capture second place.

OFFICERS: Barb Riva, President; Lisa Flesche, Vice President; Heidi Hendrichs, Secretary; Polly Bracken, Treasurer; Sheryl Blatt and Cathy McCarthy, Soph. Representatives; Ruth Jones, Sponsor.

Pep Club's responsibility at West involved encouraging spirit. Simple enough? Not really, as there is a sound philosophy behind Pep Club. We felt that if we got the individual classes going in spirit, hopefully we could form a spiritual bond within the school to unite it, and as a result have made our athletic teams feel of great value.

To help lift the morale of our teams before the games, we painted posters encouraging victory and publicizing the game. The nights before the games we delivered cakes to each one of the players which made them feel special. On the days of the games we decorated our team's locker rooms.

Not only did we help the teams feel of value, we sponsored the Homecoming festivities and we visited Laurel Haven at Christmas time.

SOME OF THAT LONGHORN POWER

Cheerleading is two things. One, the main objective, is to encourage our guys to victory. Looking over West's sports records, we feel we were successful. The second thing is the fun of working together. The cheers were hard work but behind them were dedication and a lot of laughs. We worked on our skills this year and developed the cheers we learned at camp. Mrs. Jones was our sponsor and Mother Hen and a major help in all our accomplishments this year.

Senior Women, Fun is Our Motto

With the true spirit of a senior, Senior Women gave us the certain kind of fun that enabled us to involve ourselves in the school we were about to leave. We won the Powderpuff game because we worked as a team. It was a sight to see us practicing, but we had fun and got to know each other better. Our red and blue jerseys helped to distinguish us around West. Towards the end of the year we realized how much fun Senior Women had been.

Bleacher Bums and Bummettes

Bleacher Bums and Bumettes were organized to promote a unique spirit at basketball games. The first Bleacher Bums were around last year, and then the girls decided we should organize and have a Bleacher Bummette group, just as the guys had. We had a lot of fun goofing off and acting silly while cheering the basketball Longhorns on to victory.

Welcoming Club

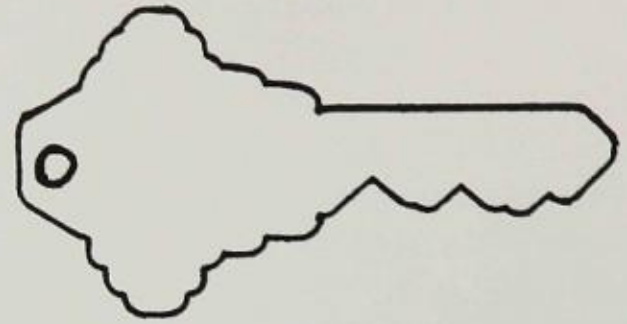

With the incoming of new students almost every day at West the Welcoming Club played an important role. The guidance department helped us by giving us the names of new students. We then showed the new students around the building, introduced them to West students, and made them feel at home. Welcoming Club definitely did play an important role at West this year.

Student Council, Con't.

This year Student Council did projects inside and outside of West. One of our most exciting projects was when we helped an under privileged family. We raised the money to build bedrooms for the family. We didn't stop there; we actually built the rooms on for the family. This was the best part of the project. Outside of West, we also had Coffee Houses at Saint Martins.

Towards the end of the summer we had a welcoming party for new students to introduce them to West. At the beginning of the school year we had a conference with Dr. Wayne Fick to improve relations between Central Administration and students at West. Around school we sponsored a jazz concert. For the first time we had a Halloween party, which many students enjoyed. We also ran the movie "Cool Hand Luke." Before the year was up, we hoped to write a new constitution which would change the meaning of Student Council. With special thanks to Jan Easterday, Connie Kamakas, Duane Nelson, Debbie Philippi, Tim Phillips, Dwight Smith, and Geri Stewart much of our work would have never been completed.

Drug Communications Helps People To Understand Drugs

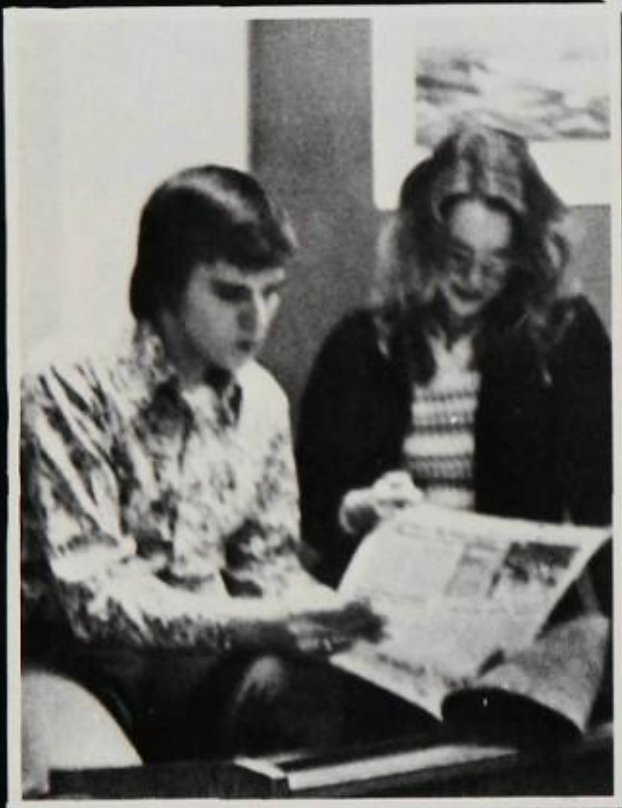

Jeff Speigel prepares for a meeting.

Drug Communications came to West last year to help people understand drugs. Since then we have visited elementary schools and junior highs to discuss drugs. We didn't preach about drugs, but talked honestly about them. The philosophy of the group is to make people more aware of the disillusion of drugs and allow them to make their own decisions about drugs.

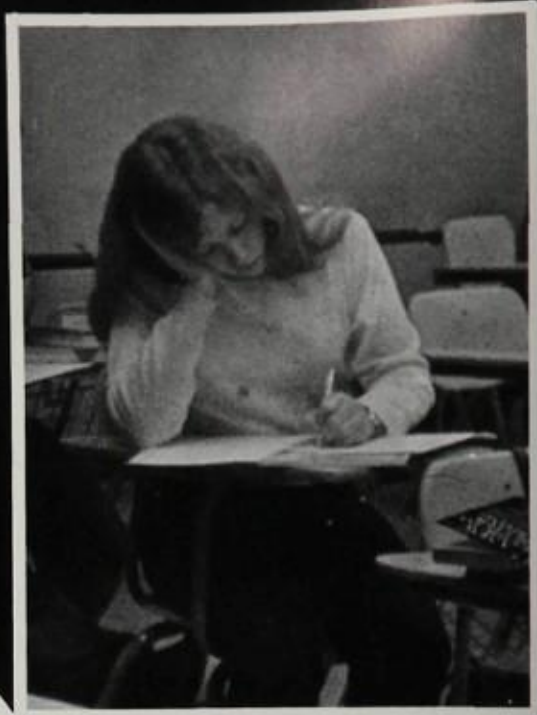

Drug Communications makes plans for trips to other schools.

Newspaper work was basically what we, as a staff, made it. Newswriting took a great amount of initiative and responsibility, along with the ability to write candidly and in detail. There was always the constant push of the deadline, but in turn for all our work we gained the skills of a good journalist, and always the pride of our finished product. Working on the PATH-FINDER was exciting, interesting, and informative, and sometimes tedious, frustrating, and hectic. Typical of larger papers, photography, writing, advertising, and pasting-up were all part of our curriculum. The sole purpose of both Journalism I and II was to produce and sell the school newspaper. We, this year's staff, found Journalism a most worthwhile course.

REFLECTIONS REFLECTIONS

Reflections, West's literary magazine had a volunteer staff that met once a week to read and evaluate material submitted by our students. The magazine was published three times this year and included stories, poems, essays, and art work. Anyone attending West was eligible to submit material by simply bringing it to the English Concept Center or by giving it to an English teacher.

PAWESEN T A F F

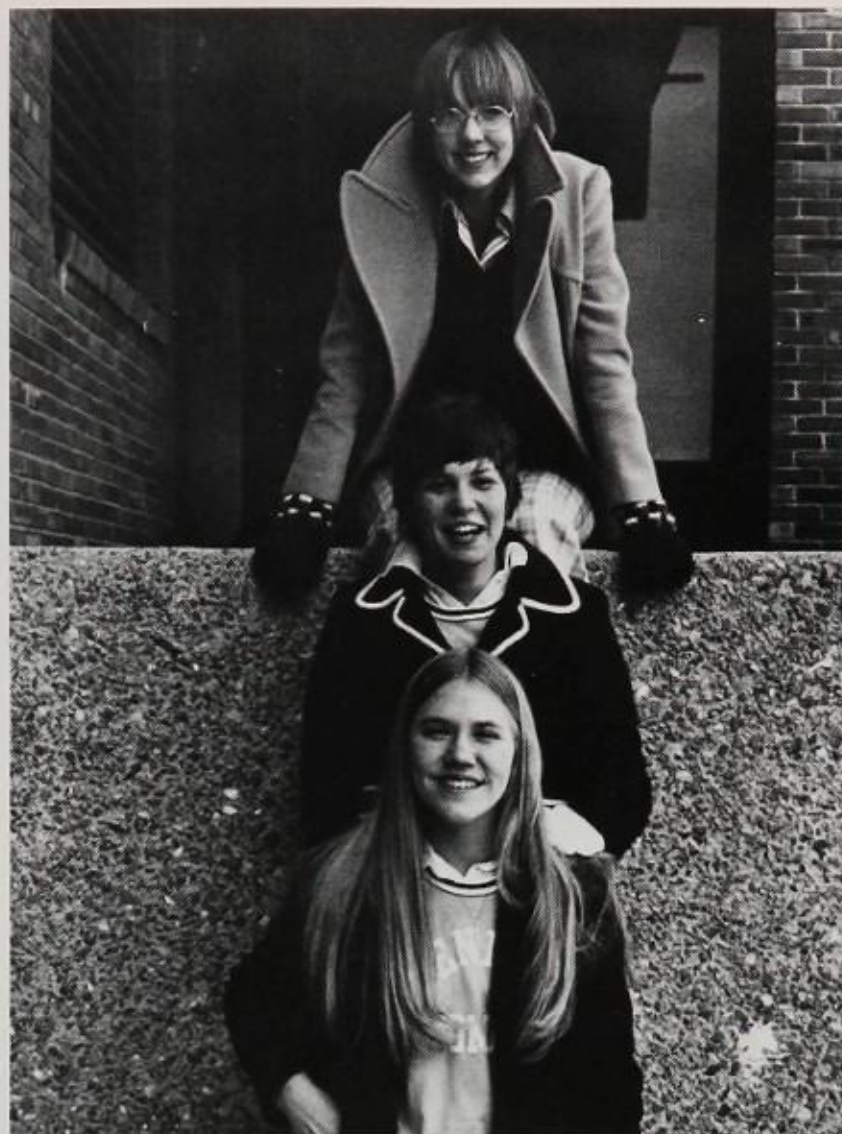

This year our job was to produce a yearbook. We tried to reflect West as a whole. A main concern we had was to represent adequately all of the students at West. In order to achieve this, we concentrated mainly on presenting the accomplishments of students and school related events. We hope that we have been able to produce a book that pleases everyone. At times it was a struggle to obtain the necessary funds for a good book, but even with our limited funds we found the course worthwhile. We learned to meet strict deadlines and to cooperate with each other even when it was difficult to do so. This has been the goal of the yearbook staff and we feel we have attained this goal.

We became a more established group this year because our membership increased noticeably. Our main purpose was to learn about and, in some cases, increase our knowledge of cameras, picture taking, and processing and printing film. We greatly appreciated our relatively new dark room, in which we spent many long, hard, and enjoyable hours, developing film.

Eager, potential, marching band enthusiasts swarmed over Clayton Woods Elementary school blacktop at 6:30 in the morning before school, to learn new drills and numbers. Through rain, or snow, or sleet, or hail, Mr. Waggoner never failed to have a practice before school.

Not only was the practice time different, but so was the marching technique. Last year, sophomores came in one week earlier to be taught the basic steps by "Old Hat" Seniors. Instead, everyone learned together this year.

We not only played in the home game halftime shows, but we entered a contest, and we were the only marching band that participated in the West County Christmas parade.

Highlanders this year was practice at 6:30 a.m., "curlers in your hair," a pain in the feet, side-stepping mud puddles, and believe it or not, fun. However, behind the blisters and complaints was a lot of hard work. (Mr. Waggoner saw to that.) Extensive preparation and practice went into the halftime shows and especially the state contest. We did have some good times working together, and although the idea of early morning practice still brings groans, we feel Highlanders was worth our time, and given the chance, we'd do the same thing again.

Dance Corps

Dance Corps is a group of girls from the Highlanders who work together after the football season to put on shows for the basketball halftimes. A new routine was needed for each show which meant a lot of practice after school and a newly designed dance. We tried to vary the routines this year by adding hula hoops and pom poms to them. S.O.D. provided the music and the audiences were delighted.

Sons Of The Desert 1972-1973: Elaine Allen, Jeff Brandenburg, Mandy Dietz, Bob Hook, Charmaine Kohrs, Barbara Nielson, Bill Olsen, Lisa Roevekamp, Cynthia Williams, Kay Jones, Jody Rotermund, Bob Welsh, Cathy McCarthy, Debby Dowden, George Garties, Lynda Hill, Sharon Lundgren, Gary Stephey, Jeanne Weber, Warren Broemmelsick, Kevin Davie Scott, Scott Keller, President; Alan Manning, Director; John Schaberg, Jeannie Welch, Brian Barthold, Jeff Childress, Bob Fortner, Mark Kohring, Alfred Macali, Jay Nilson, Brenda Patterson, Steve Bay, Theresa Landgraf, Howard Solomon, Kirk Kaelber, Sue Casady, Jane Glynn, Larry Hassel, Paul Kufrin, Dave Martin, Richard Waller, Vincil Abbott, Barbara Bruton, Jeff Hahs, Mike Kiss, Keith Ridenhour, Carl Simpson, John Mantoath.

Sons of the Desert is a group of people who enjoy playing instruments together for the fun of it. We organized a few years ago and the idea has stayed on. Now S.O.D. is the official pep band for the basketball games. We accompany the Dance Corps and add a few "toots" of spirit to the game as well as playing our own arrangements. We're not hard to spot — if there's someone in an unusual or funny hat it's bound to be a S.O.D. member.

Being in National Forensics League meant competing or speaking in front of an audience to earn 25 points to become a member. Once we were in NFL it meant a lot of hard work and extensive research on our topics. When we did the research, it involved hours of after school work in which part of the work included challenge rounds for debaters.

With our motto "Training Youth for Leadership" in mind, we learned how to grow individually. We learned how to work with each other when we hosted the Parkway West Invitational Debate and Drama Festival. The tournament was a lot of work yet it gave us a feeling of accomplishment. All in all NFL helped us to grow in a unique way.

Debate

Joy Haven finds debate class so exciting, she doesn't even leave it for lunch.

This year, debate at West was something else of which students and faculty could be proud. In debate, we worked many hard hours preparing for tournaments all across the state. Our efforts paid off. In all, we won over one hundred trophy awards along with every sweepstakes at all major tournaments held during the year. Our debate team, led by Mr. Ron Shafer, was definitely a strategic part of West and its achievements.

The main difference between Symphonic Winds and Concert Band was that to become a member of Symphonic Winds an audition was required. Yet, as members of either group we were involved in many activities. During the marching season we competed in a contest at Central Methodist and in February we traveled to University City to participate in an exchange of ideas. Then in the spring the Music Lab staged a review and also traveled to Forest Park for a stage band festival. In March, some students were selected from each band to comprise the all district band. Throughout the year all of us found that we needed to practice long and hard to achieve that sound we hoped to attain. We were judged by others only on our performance and we feel that with the daily practice and Mr. Waggoner's assistance we came a little closer to that special sound we all desired.

A V

Mr. Elliott directs his troops.

Audio-Visual is a behind the scenes service that most students are hardly aware of, but if A-V suddenly disappeared, we would soon notice. The student announcements would be more tedious to listen to, the classes would miss slides, tape recordings, films, and overheads, and assemblies would be almost impossible to have.

Mr. Elliott and his troops worked from 6:30 A.M. to 5 P.M. and Saturdays to make West more interesting as well as having a personal learning experience. They helped in setting up concerts and put on "Wait Until Dark" and "The Wizard of Oz" for our enjoyment. Audio-Visual deserves a lot of credit in making West a better school.

Amateur Radio

The Parkway West Amateur Radio Club, now in its third year of existence, was well on its way toward actually installing a station here at West. We had our station licenses, a receiver, an antenna which loomed high above the school, and over $100 made from candy sales and other club projects. We talked to other countries all around the world, including New Zealand, Australia, Germany, and Africa. We also had within our club Bill Ogroski, winner of a nation-wide radio contest. Some of our more active members included Bill Ames, president; Dave Weir, Ward Silver, Bill Ogroski, Steve Smith, Don Reader, and Mr. Larson, sponsor.

Rifle Club — Greg Irwin, Bob Bay, Mr. Biere, Sponsor; Tom Calzone, Jeff Hansen, Jim Obermeyer, Steve Bay, Brian Mertz, Tim Clerk, Jerry Reed, and Ron Lindroth.

Steve Smith, Colleen McPherson, Bill Ames, Dave Weir, and Don Reader make fund-raising plans at an Amateur Radio Club meeting.

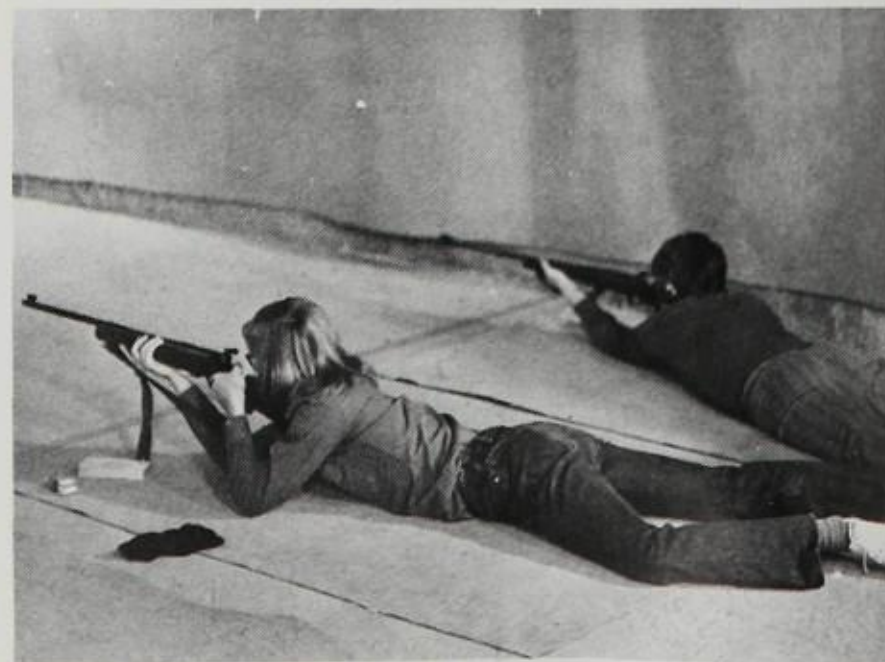

Rifle Club

The Rifle Club was a fairly new organization. It was the early beginning of what hopefully will become the Parkway West Small Bore Rifle Team. Possibly, in a year or more, the team can begin competing with other high schools in the area.

As club members we spent one night a week at the target range and one in the classroom with a professional marksman. Once or twice a week, we shot hand traps after school. The club had something for just about everyone interested in guns and shooting.

Ron Lindroth and Tim Clerk receive help at target practice.

Greg Irwin and Brian Mertz try to improve their marksmanship.

Deca Club

DECA Club is a national chapter organization concerned about developing future leaders for America. Only Junior and Senior students could be enrolled in our program. Seniors went to school half a day, and then went to their prospective jobs to receive training, and eventually a position. For them, DECA was working 15 hours per week at your designated job.

Although Juniors couldn't actually receive the training the Seniors did, they learned Distributive Education in class, and played a major part in our program — especially one Junior name Beci Pritchett, who became our club president. However, she isn't the only one who should be commended. Bill Smyly, our club reporter, received three DECA trophies at a contest. Credit should be given also to our sponsors, Mr. Foley and Mr. Sailor.

Bill Smyly proudly displays his trophies. Bill was also named the "DECA Student of the Year" for Missouri.

One requirement for Biology Club members — enjoy the outdoors!

Biology Club members work on the paper drive.

Trying to understand and live with ecology could easily describe the Biology Club. But we didn't stop there, we lived up to that statement. We had many overnight trips where we discovered nature, each in our own way. To climax the weekends we had a one week canoe float trip during the summer. This was a lot of fun as we were able to know each other as individuals. During the week we prepared experiments for the Biology classes, took care of the animals, did outside labs, had ecological pick-ups, did indoor labs, and had fund-raising. The fund-raises were to help with our expenses. The most exciting part about Biology Club was how we were able to meet new people, make lasting friendships, and share new experiences.

Astronomy and Rocket Clubs

To explore our hobby of watching stars, all of us joined the Astronomy Club. This year we had the exciting experience of building our own telescope at our meetings. Each one of us would choose a topic about astronomy and then we would discuss the topic at our meetings. Every week or so we would meet to have an all night watch of the stars.

The Rocket Club formed this year to explore our interest of building rockets and launches. Once we had made the rockets we experimented with them by firing them from the launches.

F.T.A. was very busy this year with many helpful projects. We set up workshops towards the start of the year in which students taught other students things of personal interest such as crocheting, cave exploring, airplane pilotry and more. Classes were held in the evenings. We took part in helping with the blood mobile at Clayton Woods Elementary School and participated in College Day at Webster College where we learned what was necessary and what there was to do to become a teacher. We also journeyed to Litzsinger Elementary School to learn about Special Education.

For our meetings we invited numerous guest speakers to talk about different fields of education. Some were on the nursery school level and some on what it would be like to teach overseas.

Throughout the year we had many money raising projects. The profits went toward a scholarship for a student interested in majoring in education.

Towards the end of the year we held a teacher's luncheon for the teachers at West.

Cadet

This year at Parkway West, Mrs. Underwood started what turned out to be a big success. She was the sponsor of cadet teaching.

This course offered students the wonderful experience of actually teaching and working with young people from the ages five to eighteen.

The areas offered for this opportunity were Parkway West Senior and Junior, Clayton Woods, Henry, Manchester, Claymont, and Litzsinger schools. There we from West had our choice of the subject and grade we felt best prepared to teach.

If so desired, this course could have been used to achieve graduation credits.

FENCING CLUB

Fencing is a fast growing sport. The first tournament ever held for high school students was conducted at Parkway West this spring by our Fencing Club. Not only boys, but girls also were in the competition which, at times, had several matches in process simultaneously.

Barb Saum, from West, won first place and Oralia Flores, also from West came in second in the girls competition. Vincy Hyman, Tom Cassilly, and Joe Kaufman, placed first, second and third in the tourney for the boys competition.

In French Club we spent our first semester raising money for a Spring trip to New Orleans. We sold doughnuts in the morning and had many bake sales and fund raising projects.

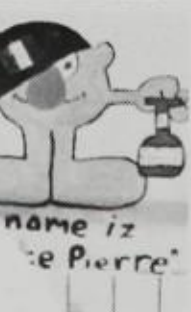

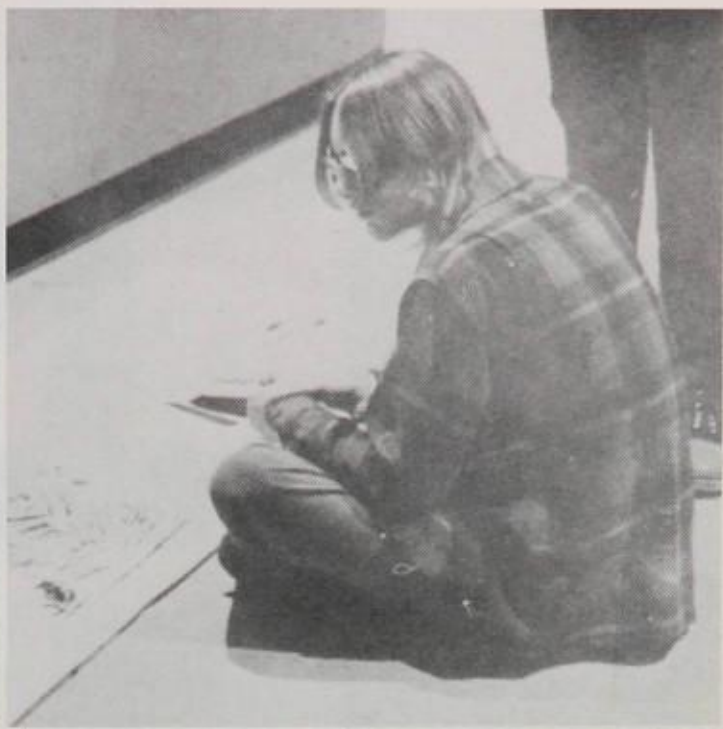

We flew to the French Quarter in New Orleans, and found it to be "Old Worldiness" and very beautiful. We spent some time sight-seeing and went to some Boutiques and saw many historical sites.

If asked, any of us would describe the trip as being a very meaningful and rewarding (and above all, FUN) trip.

Walk Together, Talk Together

The American Field Service is an organization that is working to further world understanding. By promoting Foreign Language Week, planning an assembly and parties, and arranging foreign exchanges, AFS has given West's students a look at other cultures and ways of thinking.

This year AFS sponsored Warawoot Srithaporn (Woot) from Thailand. Woot has participated in many of West's activities including soccer. Last summer Ki Bowman, a senior spent 10 weeks in Afghanistan through an Americans Abroad program.

Woot at an AFS meeting.

AFS's Halloween party is quite an event.

Our Ecology Club was interested in aspects of the environmental problem. We worked very diligently on a soda can recycling project within the school. Mr. Mihevc was our sponsor. During Earth Week we had a poster contest and cleaned up the area around West. Although a small group, we "got our feet wet" as far as stirring up some interest about changing our world for the better.

Modern Dance

Jan Miener, second from the left, instructs Marsha Dapkus, Carla Haury, and Sandy Dyle in a new dance step.

Our Modern Dance Club first started on a Wednesday way back in November. From then on it was agreed that the group would meet every Wednesday to develop new exercises and dance routines. We were able to express and develop our ideas through movement, rhythms, designs, qualities, and styles; we learned to think, feel, and move freely, and to appreciate dance as a whole.

Our Bowling Club bowled every Friday at the Ellisville Bowl. We honestly felt that bowling in an eight team league once a week relieved much of the everyday tensions that surrounded every student at West. The team against team competition as well as the individual bowling did much to give students a well deserved and needed break.

Chess

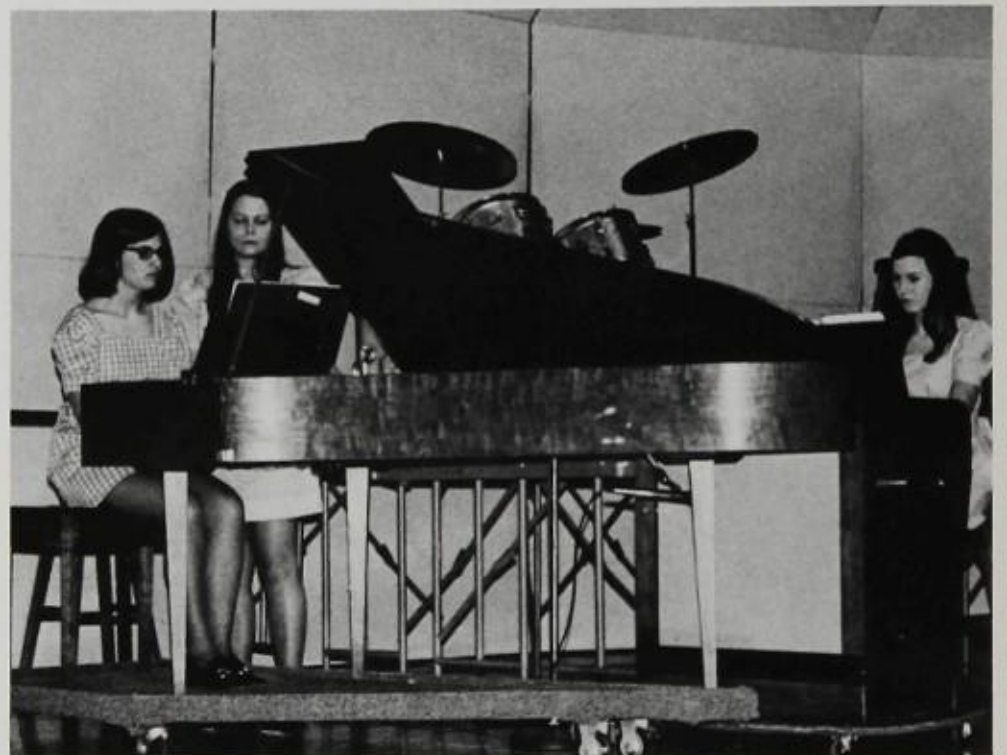

Our Chess Club, a club devoted to experiencing the fine art of chess, strove to better each member's style and technique. We met on Mondays in the Foreign Language Concept Center. Along with learning about the theory and history of this ancient game, we participated in area chess tournaments and fared quite well. We all looked forward to our weekly mental struggle.

Ensembles Achieve Musical Awareness

Symphonic and Concert Ensembles were organized so that we could achieve the interests in music that we desired. We usually rehearsed once a week so that when the music festivals came around our tone quality and techniques would be what we wanted. All of us enjoyed meeting with musicians of our age from other schools when we played at the UMSL festival. To achieve our goals, we practiced more frequently as the time approached so that we could be judged and receive an excellent rating. The Ensembles also helped us to learn to work with our fellow musicians at West.

Bookkeeping and Accounting Teams

The equality of debits and credits could not have been proven more effectively by the office of Price Waterhouse than by the Advanced Accounting team as they prepared to represent West at the State Business Education Contest. This team composed of Kerry Whisnant, Diana Simmons and Mark Uthe won first place in the District competition and also took individual highest scoring honors. The Accounting I team composed of Denise Sterett, Sue Mika and Lynda Hill also took honors by winning third place. Any accredited high school in the state could enter in the contest. The objective of the contest was to create interest in and enthusiasm for business education subjects and to promote a high standard of proficiency in them.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is a group of students selected by a panel of teachers for their scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Sponsored by Mrs. Kennedy and Mr. Klein, we organized a bus to the World Affairs Council's NBC News Round-Up. Many of us were tutors in cooperation with the counseling office. We also ran the inductions of the new members and prepared the special ceremony in tribute to their accomplishments.

INDIVIDUAL

ADMINISTRATION

Al Burr, Principal

Mr. B.E. Wetzel

Mr. Dan Natale

Mr. Bill Byrd

The overwhelming impression that one is left with after examining the 1972-73 Pawesehi is the diversity of student achievement. This was a student body composed of a variety of personalities, attitudes, and interests. The individual difference was both accepted and encouraged. Each student was charged with the responsibility to make the West community better. Each individual, with his own talents and interests, had the opportunity to do, to act, and to improve.

From the diversity came our strength. The pages of the Yearbook reveal a remarkable story of accomplishment. Excited by ideas, and given the freedom to try, the West student wrote an enviable record of achievement in academics, athletics, activities, and in service. Mutual respect characterized our community. With each individual responsible for the success of his own program, he became sensitive to the needs and problems of others. Working alone, but together, we fulfilled our potential.

Death is but crossing the world,
as friends do the seas;
they live in one another still.

— William Penn

Harry Walker was a friend.

At the beginning of the book we felt inspired by the phrase "we can work it out." Did we fulfill this hope? Looking through the book we can see what we tried and what we found to be successful. We realized that we could achieve little by utilizing only limited resources — that it took a combination of all three aspects of our school environment (school participation, the community, and ourselves) to advance our aims. Perhaps we'll never be satisfied with the condition of life around us, but we'll continue to keep trying to "work it out."

It was this mood of West that we attempted to capture in this book. We tried to catch the small memories that will always be "West" to us. Without the unselfish help of the following people we couldn't have done this:

Mrs. Joan Fleck, our advisor

Mr. B. E. Wetzel, vice-principal, friend, and a seemingly inexhaustable supply of printing paper.

Mr. Jim Combs, American Yearbook Representative.

Miss Sophie Parashek and everyone at Vincent Price Studios.

Denise Weber, and Greg Lowther for photography assistance

Mr. Nagel, darkroom consultant

Our patrons

And those in the student body who supported the book and thus made it possible.

We hope the '73 PAWESEHI is your memory of West.

We discovered interests and formed ideas

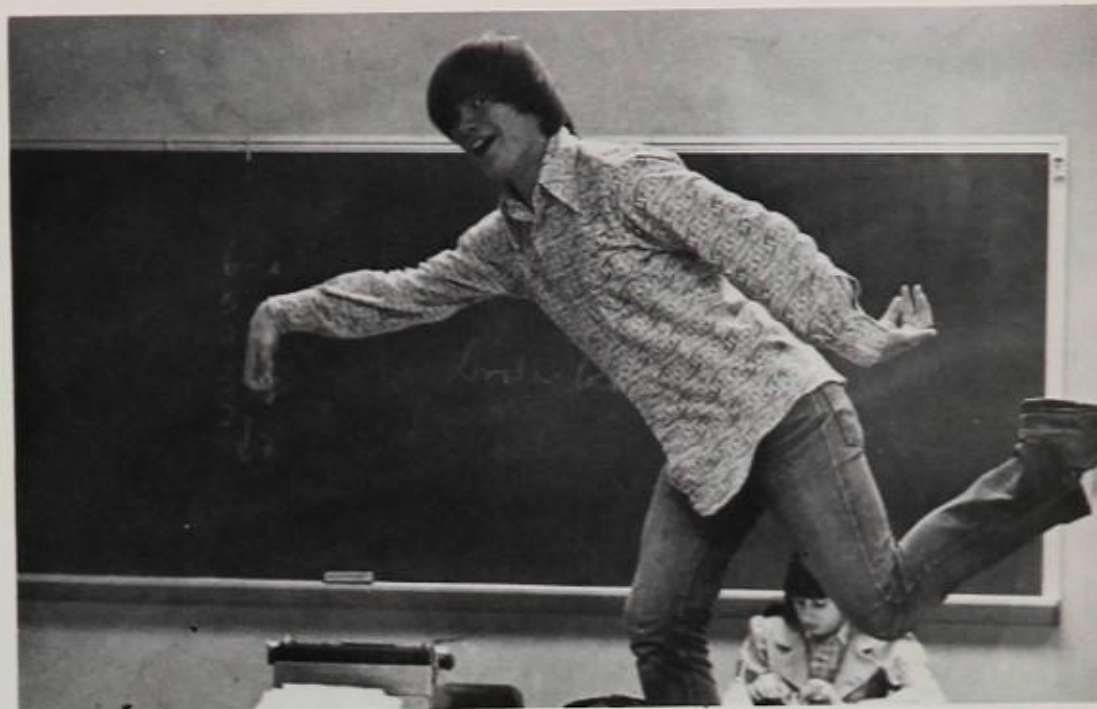

by doing, . . .

We found ourselves and acknowledged others as individuals . . .

Together, from what we learned and tried, we produced.

A black and white photograph of a person standing on a grassy area next to a road. The person is wearing a jacket and pants, and is looking towards the left. To their right is a stop sign on a pole. In the background, there are large trees and a white car parked on the road. The text "Now there are no boundaries to our world." is overlaid on the left side of the image.

Now there are no boundaries to our world.
